

Consider a career in the Design Sector

Designers influence all aspects of our lives from the clothes we wear to the homes we live in. it would be virtually impossible to find something that has not been influenced by a designer

You could chose to work in any one of the sectors listed below :

- Graphic design • Architecture • Interior design • Typography design • Games design • Textiles design •
- Materials technologist • Product design • Landscape design • Lighting design • Jewellery design

What are the highest paying design jobs?

Art Directors.

Industrial Designers.

Multimedia Artists and Animators.

Fashion Designers.

Media and

Communications jobs

Film and Video Editors.

The 5 most in-demand types of designers right now

-Product Designer

--Graphic Designer

UX Designer: UX design focuses on the interaction between real human users and everyday products and services, such as websites, apps, and even coffee machines. It's an extremely varied discipline, combining aspects of psychology, business, market research, design, and technology.

-Illustrator

-Motion Designer. It's no surprise that motion designers are in high demand—animation has become an incredibly desirable skillset, identified by designers as the top skill they want to learn in the next few years to advance in their careers.

