Dear Parent/Carer,

I have been made aware today of a new “craze” that is dangerous and being discussed by students - Year 9 boys in particular. It is called the “passout challenge”. This involves a student breathing heavily in a certain position and then being pushed in a certain way causing them to “pass out”. This is very dangerous and something we do not want to see any child doing.

You can view this on Youtube at:

https://www.youtube.com/results?search_query=pass+out+challenge+gone+wrong

This could result in serious injury or death and appears to be an `American` craze.

Please ensure your child knows how dangerous this could be and does not try this.

Yours sincerely
